Commissioner of Police, Delhi

MESSAGE

Greetings! Date: 31.05.2024

The month of May dawned on a scary note for all the Delhiites. On the1st of May, many schools in Delhi and NCR received e-mails with bomb threats in school premises. The school authorities, parents and students were all panic-struck and Delhi Police swung into action and conducted thorough search in all the affected schools. Fortunately, nothing untoward was found, and what the police could infer from its investigations was that the threats were hoax mails intended to create panic among the public. However, the anxiety persisted as similar threats were later received by certain hospitals and colleges in Delhi, prompting further police action.

The biggest festival of democracy, the Lok Sabha Election process in Delhi was concluded in a peaceful and incident-free manner. I extend my heartfelt appreciation to all the Delhi Police officers and personnel who managed the security of the entire polling process with remarkable efficiency.

In the wake of increasing incidents of cyber-crimes, Delhi Police has been consistently organising extensive campaigns and awareness sessions to sensitize various cross-sections of the society, especially through its social media platforms. Cybercriminals are employing diverse and sophisticated methods, targeting wealthy and educated individuals through intimidation and threats. The recent rise in cases involving data hacking, blackmail, and extortion has become a cause of significant concern, highlighting the need for our police officers to upgrade their technical skills and enhance their ability to tackle such crimes in an effective manner.

Delhi Police has enhanced its social media presence by launching its WhatsApp channel. We have also amplified our force with the induction of 1,266 Constables (drivers) and 151 Constables (executive) this month. The Special Protection Unit for Women and Children (SPUWAC) of Delhi Police, has commenced with its Self Defence Summer Camp for girls and women, aiming to empower and ensure the safety of participants through self-defence training.

I urge my officers and men to remain steadfast in your dedication and professionalism. The need of the hour is to aspire for the overall good of society by working in coordination with the public. The overall success of policing hinges upon the cooperation and vigilance of a proactive public.

Thank you !
