Satish Golchha
Commissioner of Police, Delhi

Greetings!

January holds a special significance for every Indian as we celebrate Republic Day - a defining milestone in India's patriotic journey. It was on 26th January 1950 that the Constitution of India came into force, formally establishing the country as a 'Sovereign Democratic Republic.' It is a proud reminder of the ideals of justice, liberty, equality and fraternity enshrined in our Constitution, which guide the functioning of every institution committed to public service.

For Delhi Police, Republic Day is both a celebration and a moment of reaffirmation. Policing, at its core, is about upholding the Constitution and translating its ideals into action - through fairness, integrity, compassion and commitment to the rule of law.

This year's Republic Day Celebrations have been a matter of immense pride for Delhi Police. The honour of winning the Best Marching Contingent Award for the third consecutive year shows the discipline, professionalism and teamwork of our personnel. This achievement reflects not only excellence in ceremonial drill, but also the values of dedication and unity that define Delhi Police in its daily duties.

As we step into the new year, the consistent hard work and resilience displayed by officers and personnel across all ranks continue to strengthen public trust. Let this achievement inspire us to scale even greater heights in service to the people.

I am confident that this new-look newsletter will serve as an effective medium to strengthen our bond with the public and to showcase the resolve of Delhi Police in serving the citizens with integrity, compassion and excellence.

Jai Hind!

SEVEN PEOPLE, INCLUDING A TAIWANESE NATIONAL ALLEGEDLY COORDINATING THE OPERATION, HAVE BEEN ARRESTED SO FAR IN THE CASE, REGISTERED UNDER PROVISIONS OF THE BHARATIYA NYAYA SANHITA (BNS), IT ACT AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS ACT, POLICE SAID.

Investigators said several of the accused had previously worked in Cambodia-based scam centres and were allegedly recruited and funded by a Pakistan-based handler, while a Nepal-based cyber is suspected to have remotely controlled operations.

According to investigators, the cybercrime network targeted victims by making phone calls posing as officers of the Anti-Terrorist Squad (ATS) and other security agencies, falsely accusing them of links with terror incidents such as the Pahalgam attack and Delhi blasts.

"Victims were told that arrest warrants had been issued against them and their bank accounts would be frozen. They were then placed under continuous video or audio surveillance, a tactic described as 'digital arrest', and coerced into transferring money to 'verify' their innocence," Deputy Commissioner of Police (Intelligence Fusion & Strategic Operations) Vinit Kumar said.
